

Repetitive Stress

Composed for the raucously refined duo The Living Earth Show, Repetitive Stress channels the raw power and aggression of heavy metal music through the meticulous structures of post-minimalism, creating intricately off-kilter grooves with unpredictably sudden twists and turns. It was premiered by The Living Earth Show at the 2012 Switchboard Music Festival in San Francisco.